 I am more comfortable helping a person who has a physical illness than I am helping a person who has a mental illness.
 If a colleague with whom I work told me they had a mental illness, I would be just as willing to work with him/her.
3. If I were under treatment for a mental illness I would not disclose this to any of my colleagues.
I would see myself as weak if I had a mental illness and could not fix it myself.
5. I would be reluctant to seek help if I had a mental illness.
Employers should hire a person with a managed mental illness if he/she is the best person for the job.
7. I would still go to a physician if I knew that the physician had been treated for a mental illness.
8. If I had a mental illness, I would tell my friends.
9. Despite my professional beliefs, I have negative reactions towards people who have mental illness.
10. There is little I can do to help people with mental illness.
11. More than half of people with mental illness don't try hard enough to get better.
12. I would not want a person with a mental illness, even if it were appropriately managed, to work with children.
13. Healthcare providers do not need to be advocates for people with mental illness.
14. I would not mind if a person with a mental illness lived next door to me.
15. I struggle to feel compassion for a person with mental illness.
